

What do I love when I love you, my God

Drawing inspiration from St. Augustine, this exhibition exposes an unsettling truth: in a world driven by a "shining beast of capitalism," little is truly cherished and everything feels encroachable. Through a compelling suite of paintings, sculptures, and installations, the exhibition challenges viewers to confront the rapid dissipation of values in our modern milieu.

Essay by Gitanjali Dang included.

Year: 2007